Low Leads In Wall Cup Tennis Play

THREE SETS PLAYED YESTERDAY ON BERETANIA COURTS—CAPTAIN LOW TAKES TWO TO AHERTON RICHARDS' ONE—FINISH TODAY.

There was some fine tennis out at the Beretania courts yesterday afternoon, when Captain Low and Aherton Richards played off three out of the five sets necessary to decide the fate of the Wall cup. Low won two sets to Richards' one, and the scores were 8-6, 6-4, 6-8.

Low was owing fifteen in every game, and he was just about able to hold his own and a little more from Richards. The younger player showed great form, and he seems able to place a ball within a few inches of any spot he aims at. Time after time the schoolboy kept up a rally with Low for five or six strokes, and then would place one just out of the captain's reach.

Richards shows every promise of developing into a champion, and if he were taken in hand by someone who would insist on his coming to the net and volleying more, he would be a hard man for anyone to tackle in a few years' time. The boy has a fine service, and if he would make sure of his second serve, instead of throwing away points like he did yesterday afternoon by trying for his second too fast, he would do much better.

Some of Richards' dropping shots yesterday were well timed and judged, and he uses a terrific forearm drive at times. There was not much chance of judging the boy's volleying abilities, as in but a few instances either man went to the net, and in nearly every case the rallies were from the back of the court. Another noticeable thing was the way in which the service was returned by both the players. Hardly any services won out straight; at any rate, not more than four or five points were won that way during the three sets.

Richards served first, and lost the game to thirty, and Low took his own serve and the second game to love. Then Richards took a brace and, playing much better, captured three games in succession—Low only got to fifteen in the trio. The sixth game, however, was won by Low to fifteen, and the score stood at three-all.

Richards took the seventh game when Low had reached fifteen, and then the captain captured the eighth after it had reached deuce. The ninth game was Richards' to thirty, but Low made the score five-all by taking the tenth. Then the see-saw act started again, and Richards won the next game in hollow fashion—Low did not make up his handicap of one fifteen. The twelfth game went to deuce and vantage three times before Low took it, and again the score was tied at six-all.

However, the end was approaching, and Low, sparkling up a lot, took the next two games and the set. Richards got to thirty in the thirteenth game, and the fourteenth went to deuce before it ended.

After a short rest the second set was begun, and Richards, serving first, took the opening game to fifteen. The young player also captured Low's service and took the second game to love. Low then woke up, and after a hot struggle managed to stop the rout and win the third game, after it had gone to deuce. Richards was not to be denied, however, and he quickly won the fourth while Low was getting to thirty.

Three to one looked good to the supporters of Richards, but the captain took the fifth and sixth games to deuce and fifteen respectively, and the score was three-all. Then Richards got a winning streak on again, and making every stroke a point-getter, took the seventh game to love. Low, who seemed to play better each time he got behind, won the eighth game to thirty, and the score showed four-all.

The ninth game went to deuce a couple of times before Low took it, and the tenth and deciding one was won by the captain to love.

It was getting late, but it was decided to play the third set off at once. Low started off well, and took the first two games fairly easily. Richards getting thirty and fifteen, and the youngster took his serve in the third game and won it to thirty. Low made the score three-one by winning the next game to fifteen, but Richards took the fifth after Low had got to fifteen. Then the best rally of the day took place in the sixth game, and the spectators became very excited. Low took the game to thirty and he then led 4-2.

The next three games went to Richards, who played up in the most brilliant form and outpointed Low. In the seventh game Low did not get a point; in the eighth he got to fifteen, and in the ninth thirty was all he could manage. The score was then 5-4 in Richards' favor. Low evened things in the tenth, and five-all was called. Richards took the eleventh game to fifteen, and Low won the next to thirty. Six-all, and both going strong, was then the state of affairs. The thirteenth game was won by Richards, who was serving, and Low got only to thirty. Then the last game, with Low serving, was won by Richards, after it had gone to deuce.

There was a fair-sized crowd present, and the play was watched with interest. Many people thought that the youngster would not last the long journey, but Richards did not turn a hair, and appeared to be as cool and fresh at the finish as he was at the start of the long match. Low won twenty games to Richards' eighteen, and the total of points scored by each man is also close.

This afternoon the match will be finished, and should Richards win another set, there will be a great struggle for the fifth and deciding one.

MAJOR LONG HAS LEG.

IN FOR WEEKLY CUP

Harvey Shoots Well and "Kills" the Possible Number—Other Members Are in Form.

At the Kakaako traps yesterday afternoon the new weekly cup shoot was got under way, and Major Long turned out to be the first winner.

He and Harvey tied in the first shoot, and in the shoot-off the major won out by hitting ten out of fifteen. Harvey grounded eight out of ten in the shoot-off, but in the straight shoot killed no less than twenty out of twenty.

The shooting was good all round, and the traps worked to perfection. Some good work was done at the unknown angles trap, and the shooting of Harvey was a treat to see.

M. C. King was another gunner who did good work, and his shooting was clean and crisp. Vincent, who has not been down at the traps for a long time, soon got his eye in, and he accounted for 10 out of 14 at the known angles.

Deering did well at the new traps, but did not do so well at the known angles. He should do better next week in the cup shoot. The scores were as follows: Major Long, 20 out of 30; J. W. Harvey, 20 out of 20; H. D. Bowen, 14 out of 26; and W. M. Vincent, 14 out of 28.

HANDBALL TOURNAMENT

IS GOING STRONG

Two Good Matches Yesterday Afternoon at Y. M. C. A. Court—Marcellino and Nott Win.

Handball is all the rage at the Y. M. C. A. at present, and yesterday afternoon Marcellino and Johnston met in the championship series that is being pulled off on the gymnasium court. Marcellino won two games straight, 21-10 and 21-17, and the play was closer than the score on paper would indicate.

Another match, which went to three games, was that between Nott and Raseman, and two out of the three were won by Nott, the scores being 21-12, 19-21 and 21-16. Some fine, well-sustained rallies were seen in these games, and the play was of a high standard.

The Y. M. C. A. handball court is engaged all the time, and many members await their turn every afternoon.

PUNAHOU DEFEAT SAINTS IN SCHOOL SERIES

Fosset Makes Brilliant Catch and Akina Repeats Stunt—Many Fans Present.

On Alexander Field yesterday afternoon the Oahu College baseball team defeated the St. Louis nine by a score of 6 to 3. The Saints did not make a run till the sixth inning, when they piled up the three they are credited with. The Puns made one in their second, third and fourth, and then three in their fifth.

Fosset made a brilliant catch in the last half of the ninth inning, when, after a long run, he scooped the ball into one hand and held it. Akina, the second baseman for the Oahu team, also made a good catch when he stopped one that Fosset tried to hit over his head.

The game was an interesting one, and there were some exciting moments at times. The rosters were present in force, and they kept things going. For the first five innings the Saints went out one, two, three, and it was not till the sixth that they got going properly.

ROLLER POLO AT RINK; MARINES DEFEAT TOWNIES

Princess Team Has Challenged Winners to Match—Will Meet Tomorrow.

Last night at the Princess rink a polo game was played between the Marines and Townies, and it resulted in a victory for the half-wits by a score of two goals to one. Netro and O'Leary scored for the Marines and they both played a good game.

The match was cleanly contested, and the rules were observed by the contestants in good fashion. All the roller polo players are expert skaters, and they certainly do some fine stunts when they are on the floor.

The Princess rink team want to have a go at the victorious Marines, and Joe Forrest, manager of the bunch, has issued a challenge to the Camp Very boys. The teams will meet next Wednesday evening, and a red hot match is expected. Another series of games is being arranged, and a cup valued at $25 is being put up for the winners.

DOTS AND DASHES.

A fight does not look much like a fake when a man is knocked out so hard that he dies. Maybe he faked that he is dead—some people would want a man to be drawn and quartered before they would be sure that he was really not faking. It may have been arranged that Moran should not knock McCarthy out before the end of the fifteenth round but, otherwise, the fight went to the better man, although he, in knocking his opponent out, killed him.

It would be a good idea to have a triangular series of cricket games between Bishop's Bank Davies & Co. and the H. C. C. More interest would be aroused if games were played between the elevens, and if some one would donate a cup there would be a great deal of keen rivalry for the trophy.

There was a great practice game of baseball yesterday afternoon when the Punahou Preps and the Kaahumanu nines met and, after a struggle worthy of a mainland league, the Kaahumanu won by a score of 2 to 1.

The fifteen-mile runners are still going strong, and they have shower baths and training quarters at the league grounds, where they can take care of themselves in up-to-date fashion.

The oxygen machine will surprise people when they see the effect it has on the runners in the fifteen miles race.
